Hello Friends
 Today is April Fools Day
 It is a time for laughter, skepticism, a sense of humor and maybe some side-eye. Beware of any big announcements made today, and maybe steer clear of the office candy bowl to be safe! Whether or not you participate in punking and pranks, we bet you'll get a giggle or two out of these hilarious and often all-too-relatable April Fools' memes.

Tom Cahill joined AER at his first meeting. He has lived in the village for 3 days

This is really cruel
